Don't Fret the Small stuff. A word from the President

We have the return of Graham Brazier as a guest this month.

Graham will be playing some of his old songs and some of his new songs at our open mic and club performance night. He has also offered a songwriting workshop for anyone interested on the following Wednesday evening the 25th of March. We are really glad to have him and look forward to an interesting and authentic New Zealand voice.

Man, is the year off to an early start or what? Summer is still with us for a few more wonderful weeks with shortening evenings and late summer days.

Make the most of it. Play outside for the neighbours!

Keep Noodlin'

Dennis

The Dairy Flat Live Music Club are keen to expand the use of the Dairy Flat hall as a venue, having offered it to us also.

They are promoting their events for the coming year and they wish to make the venue available to all and any musicians that are wanting a place to play.

The new outside stage and summer deck area is fantastic. Built by the members of the groups that use the hall, in the country, but there for the use of all of us.

FOR MUSICIANS AND MUSIC EDUCATORS

“Organisations & Being Organised”

Would you like to know where to find help with your music in New Zealand?

A special seminar is being held in March for both musicians and music teachers to benefit from. Hear from the leaders of 3 great New Zealand music organisations: Independent Music New Zealand, the Smokefree Rockquest and Music Education New Zealand Aotearoa!

This event is perfect for:

- students entering Rockquest / band competitions
- musicians needing help and guidance
- those who wish to learn more about record labels
- Music teachers who need some new ideas / help

Spaces are limited so that everyone that attends can get their personal questions answered. There is also a bonus session on time management for those that feel overwhelmed or just simply need help with organising their time.

Seats will fill fast, so secure your place now to meet other musicians and leaders from music organizations in New Zealand.

Cost: $60
Venue: Waipuna Conference Centre
Date: Sat 28th March
Time: 10am - 3pm
Email ryansbuzz@hotmail.com to reserve your spot!
